

Job title: Trainee Biomedical Scientist

Location: Hillingdon NHS Trust

Roles and responsibilities

- Process samples of different varieties (e.g. Blood, Urine or Tissue) and make an initial examination.
- Extensively test different samples and work with doctors to identify appropriate treatment.
- To decide what tests need to be done on different samples.
- Preparing samples for testing
- Conducting tests using a variety of different apparatus.
- Check the tests for any problems or mistakes.
- To test the apparatus for faults or problems

Knowledge, skills and experience

- Honours degree in Biomedical Science that is accredited by the institute of Science
- Relevant work experience
- You will need a high level of scientific knowledge and the ability to use laboratory apparatus.
- Computer skills are required to use equipment.
- Organisational skills to run several investigations at once and handle a lot of data.
- Communication and teamwork are needed to discuss and offer assistance to doctors and other medical staff.